"365 days, a safe year for you, a safe year for all".

Today is a remarkable day: we have completed a year without any major accidents!

We have achieved a great goal by being united in the same direction, in the same line, for the same objective.

The last 365 days have reflected the commitment of all of us to continuous improvement in order to achieve an objective that is inescapably pursued in organizations and especially in ours: caring for people.

Our approach and culture towards safety is moving in the right direction:

- We have demonstrated rapid improvement by moving forward in finding solutions to incidents with containment measures.
- We have improved our processes from a safety perspective.
- We have gained the commitment of all of you to safety.

The next milestones will continue to require us to be united in a zero-accident culture, the common goal is not an accident free year, the common goal is a firm commitment to caring for people at work.

The next milestones will continue to require us to be united in a zero- accident culture, the common goal is not an accident free year, the common goal is a firm commitment to caring for people at work.

Congratulations to the entire Wittur España team.
